

CALL FOR PAPERS: SiSAL Journal Special Issue on Self-Access Writing Support

SiSAL Journal is planning to publish a special issue on the topic of self-access writing support for the March 2013 issue (volume 4, issue 1). Editors are calling for submissions in the areas of:

1. Writing Centres
2. Materials for self-access writing support
3. Strategies for self-access writing support
4. Advising processes
5. Learner development in self-access writing

This special issue will publish the following:

1. Full research articles of around 3,500 words
2. Summaries and works in progress
3. Perspectives (opinions and reflections)
4. Reviews of academic books, articles or website resources

Please refer to the journal website for a detailed description of submission types and format. <http://sisaljournal.org/for-authors/submission-guidelines/>

First Call for papers: December 1st, 2012.

Final Call for papers: January 1st, 2013.

Submissions to be sent directly to the guest editor for this special issue:

Rachael Ruegg
Akita International University, Japan
Email: rachaelruegg[at]gmail.com

Alternatively, articles can be submitted via the usual channels outlined on the SiSAL Journal website: <http://sisaljournal.org/>